Dear Mr. Savoca:

Your letter requesting information on the Freedom of Information Act for the State of West Virginia was received in this office on January 6, 2014.

I am enclosing herewith sections of the West Virginia Code relating to the Freedom of Information Act which I hope will be helpful to you. If you wish to request public records under the Act, you must send that request by letter to the "custodian of the record" in West Virginia state government at the Capitol in Charleston. You must state specifically within that letter what public records you seek, and that you are seeking them under the Freedom of Information Act. If the state agency is not the custodian of the record or needs more information, they will contact you. If a fee will be charged for the copying and research of the record, you will be notified, and if your request is denied as being exempt under the Act, you will be so advised. If a public record contains information of a personal nature or otherwise exempt under the Act, that portion of the public record will be redacted.

I hope this information answers any questions you have about the Freedom of Information Act process.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Joseph D. Garcia".

Joseph D. Garcia
